the debate over the concept of world literature which has been taking place with renewed intensity over the last twenty years is tightly bound up with the issues of global interconnectedness in a polycentric world most recently critiques of globalization related conceptualizations in particular have made themselves heard to what extent is the concept of world literature too closely connected with the political and economic dynamics of globalization such questions cannot be answered simply through theoretical debate the material side of the production of world literature must therefore be more strongly integrated into the conversation than it has been using the example of latin american literatures this volume demonstrates the concrete construction processes of world literature to that purpose archival materials have been analyzed here notes travel reports and correspondence between publishers and authors the latin american examples provide particularly rich information about the processes of institutionalization in the western world as well as new perspectives for a contemporary mapping of world literature beyond the established dynamics of canonization

the first major study on the works of the mexican novelist angeles mastretta demonstrating the rich complexity and range of the author s fiction and essays the mexican novelist angeles mastretta b 1949 has only recently received serious critical attention largely because her work has been seen as popular and therefore inappropriate for academic study this first major work to be published on mastretta seeks to demonstrate the rich complexity and range of the author s fiction and essays in the tradition of post boom latin american women s writing mastretta s texts are motivated by a desire to speak primarily of the silenced experiences and voices of women two of her novels referential and testimonial in style can be placed within the mexican revolutionary novel tradition and explore the revolutionary period and its consequences in the light of female experiences and perspectives the hitherto unexplored themes of female sexuality and bodily erotics in mastretta s texts are also considered in this volume her feminist works avoid facile simplifications heterogeneous and dialogical they interweave the historical and the fictional the everyday and the fantastic the originality of mastretta s writing lies in its elusive postmodern ambiguities shimmering surfaces are often interrupted by unexpected depths and proliferating meanings cannot be fully circumscribed by critical analysis jane elizabeth lavery lectures in latin american studies at the university of kent
