since the early 2000s the apparent explosion of interest in volkswagens with original paint rust and patina has inspired a generation of car fanatics who might not be able to afford to restore a car to show condition but still want a good looking cool car that will stand out from the crowd once looked upon as being in need of restoration cars with original paint rust and patina especially within the global volkswagen community have gradually become far more popular than restored cars when walking down a line of cars at a car show it s easy to see why these cars are rare unspoiled survivors cars that tell a story of an interesting and varied past the look of the volkswagens being built in this style is so honest unspoiled and characterful that it has begun to inspire the media even hollywood movie stars and celebrities whilst this has undoubtedly resulted in increased car values and turned a brand of cars that had always been a cheap honest mode of transportation into something cool with a high price tag the generation it initially inspired has grown with the hobby and produced a micro industry that still manages to embrace the built not bought ethos this book superbly illustrated with stunning colour photographs takes an inside look at some of the key car builders dealers celebrities and hobbyists as well as the different styles of build meaning every single car has a style all its own foreword by drew pritchard of tv s salvage hunters fame

this book contains a collection of studies on the interactions between businesses in africa and global value chains gvcs in terms of social environmental and economic sustainability this is particularly pertinent given the asymmetrical power distribution between the global buyer and the african supplier their governance relationships and the ongoing competitive pressures to reduce costs and increase flexibility to meet gvc demands rather than focusing on the sustainability of a single organization gvcs address the sustainability of inter firm value chains and global industries as a whole with little differentiation between value chain creation and social environmental degradation extending to people and raw material extraction upstream and disposal or recycling downstream sustainability issues need to be at the forefront of african business research interests nowadays sustainability is considered a competitive advantage for a firm looking to join a gvc whether sustainability is approached from the viewpoint of an exporting firm motivated to join a gvc in its respective industry or whether a firm s continuing contractual or collaborative relationship with a buyer depends on its compliance with sustainability standards both approaches focus on the ability of firms in africa to benefit from joining sustainable gvcs

this is the story of vw s timeless classic the type 2 transporter universally known as the bus it is sixty years since the idea of vw s transporter was conceived by dutchman ben pon after seeing motorized trollies conveying components around the british managed wolfsburg factory in the mid 1940s with blueprints complete by november 1948 the bulli as it was known in germany went into production a year later the 100 000th transporter was built in october 1954 the millionth in 1961 and the 3 millionth in 1971 the total number of vehicles exceeding 6 5 million the transporter changed little in concept throughout decades of production and remained in production in brazil until very recently nearly six decades after its postwar german debut researched in incredible detail this book explores the story of the vw bus from early origins through to the present day this entirely new edition includes details of many of the different camper conversions and examines the social history and the t2 s evolution including full specifications production figures and buying advice this totally reworked classic is an interesting highly informative read and a must for any vw enthusiast
